

Photronics Acquires Additional Shares of PKL Ltd. in Korea

January 26, 2005

Photronics Acquires Additional Shares of PKL Ltd. in Korea
BROOKFIELD, Connecticut January 26, 2005 -- Photronics, Inc. (Nasdaq:PLAB), a worldwide leader in supplying innovative imaging technology solutions for the global electronics industry, today reported that it has acquired an additional 3% interest in PKL Co., Ltd. in Korea (Kosdaq:PKL). As a result of this transaction, the Company now owns approximately 90% of PKL. Photronics acquired the additional equity in PKL, Korea's leading independent photomask manufacturer, from an existing PKL shareholder in exchange for cash consideration of approximately $8.5 million. Additional financial terms of the transaction were not disclosed. Constantine "Deno" Macricostas, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Photronics stated, "Integrated device manufacturers and foundries throughout Asia are continuing to make strategic investments in their businesses to support customers all over the world. Through increasing its equity investment in PKL, Photronics is moving to insure that both global and regional customers have access to the most efficient and advanced photomask supplier in Asia. We are especially pleased that our investments are generating measurable bottom line returns for our shareholders."

#

Photronics is a leading worldwide manufacturer of photomasks. Photomasks are high precision quartz plates that contain microscopic images of electronic circuits. A key element in the manufacture of semiconductors, photomasks are used to transfer circuit patterns onto semiconductor wafers during the fabrication of integrated circuits. They are produced in accordance with circuit designs provided by customers at strategically located manufacturing facilities in Asia, Europe, and North America. Additional information on the Company can be accessed at www.photronics.com.

"Safe Harbor" Statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995: Certain statements in this release are considered "forward looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. In particular, any statement contained in this release regarding the consummation and benefits of future acquisitions, expectations with respect to future sales, financial performance, operating efficiencies and product expansion, are subject to known and unknown risks, uncertainties and contingencies, many of which are beyond the control of the Company. These factors may cause actual results, performance or achievements to differ materially from anticipated results, performances or achievements. Factors that might affect such forward looking statements include, but are not limited to, overall economic and business conditions; the demand and receipt of orders for the Company's products; competitive factors in the industries and geographic markets in which the Company competes; changes in federal, state and foreign tax requirements (including tax rate changes, new tax laws and revised tax law interpretations); the Company's ability to place new equipment in service on a timely basis; interest rate fluctuations and other capital market conditions, including foreign currency rate fluctuations; economic and political conditions in international markets; the ability to obtain a new bank facility or other financings; the ability to achieve anticipated synergies and other cost savings in connection with acquisitions and productivity programs; the timing, impact and other uncertainties of future acquisitions and investments; the seasonal and cyclical nature of the semiconductor industry; the availability of capital; management changes; damage or destruction to our facilities by natural disasters, labor strikes, political unrest or terrorist activity; the ability to fully utilize its tools; the ability of the Company to receive desired yields, pricing, product mix, and market acceptance of its products; changes in technology; and other risks and uncertainties set forth in the Company's SEC filings from time to time. Any forward-looking statements should be considered in light of these factors. The Company assumes no obligation to update the information in this release.