Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

Three Months Ended January 30, 2000 and January 31, 1999
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 - BASIS OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the three month period ended January 30, 2000 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending October 30, 2000. For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and footnotes thereto included in Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended October 31, 1999.

NOTE 2 - EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic Earnings Per Share ("EPS") is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period, excluding any dilutive common share equivalents. Diluted EPS reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted.

A reconciliation of basic and diluted EPS for the three months ended January 30, 2000 and January 31, 1999 is as follows (in thousands, except per share amounts):

	Net Income	Average Shares Outstanding	Earnings Per Share
	-----	-----	-----
2000:
Basic	$3,013	23,983	$0.13
Effect of potential dilution from exercise of stock options and conversion of notes (a)	-	-	=====
Diluted	$3,013 =====	23,983 =====	$0.13 =====
1999:
Basic	$ 617	24,102	$0.03
Effect of potential dilution from exercise of stock options and conversion of notes (a)	-	-	=====
Diluted	$ 617 =====	24,102 =====	$0.03 =====

(a) The effect of the exercise of stock options and the conversion of notes for the three months ended January 30, 2000 and January 31, 1999 is anti-dilutive.

NOTE 3 - COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

The Company's comprehensive income as reported in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Shareholders' Equity, consists of net earnings, and all changes in equity during a period except those resulting from investments by owners and distributions to owners, which are presented before tax. The Company does not provide for U.S. income taxes on foreign currency translation adjustments because it does not provide for such taxes on undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries. Other comprehensive income (loss) consists of unrealized gains and losses on certain investments in equity securities and foreign currency translation adjustments. The related tax effects allocated to each component of other comprehensive income (loss) for the three months ended January 30, 2000 and January 31, 1999 were as follows:

	Before-Tax Amount -----	Tax (Expense) or Benefit -----	Net-of-Tax Amount ----- 2000:

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition

Material Changes in Results of Operations

Three Months ended January 30, 2000 versus January 31, 1999.

Net sales for the three months ended January 30, 2000 increased 22.0% to $58.3 million compared with $47.8 million for the three months ended January 31, 1999, primarily due to an increase in new design releases, principally in the United States, and a better mix of orders for high-end technology products. The first quarter of fiscal 1999 reflected the downturn in the global semi-conductor industry which resulted in extended customer shut-downs, a slow-down in the releases of new designs, and price reductions for mature products. The Company continues to see a weakness in selling prices for mature technologies but has benefitted from its investment in high-end manufacturing capability through a mix shift toward high-end technology products. Sales outside of the U.S. were consistent in the first quarter of 2000 compared to the first quarter of 1999 at approximately 23% of total sales.

Cost of sales for the three months ended January 30, 2000, increased 13.2% to $39.9 million, compared with $35.3 million for the same period in the prior fiscal year. Gross margins increased to 31.5% of sales in the first quarter of fiscal 2000, compared with 26.2% for the first quarter of 1999. The gross margin increase was primarily attributable to an increase in higher margin .25 micron and below product shipments, partially offset by increases in costs, principally higher depreciation and service contract expenses from the Company's expansion of its technological capability.

Selling, general and administrative expenses increased 12.5% to $8.2 million for the three months ended January 30, 2000, compared with $7.3 million for the same period in the prior fiscal year. As a percentage of net sales, selling, general and administrative expenses decreased to 14.0% for the three months ended January 30, 2000, compared with 15.2% for the same period in the prior fiscal year. The higher expenses were due principally to staffing and other costs associated with the Company's expansion, both domestically and internationally, together with increases in information systems and communications costs.

Research and development expenses for the three months ended January 30, 2000, increased 27.7% to $4.5 million, compared with $3.5 million for the same period in the prior fiscal year. This increase reflects the continuing development efforts on high-end, more complex photomasks such as phase shift and optical proximity correction applications, and on process enhancements for the manufacture of high-end photomasks. In addition, R&D expenses in the current year increased as a result of the new Mask Center of Competency, a joint effort with IBM, established in the second half of fiscal 1999. As a percentage of net sales, research and development was 7.7% for the three months ended January 30, 2000 compared to 7.4% for the quarter ended January 31, 1999.

Net other expenses of approximately $1.0 million in the first quarter of 2000 was comprised principally of interest expense on the convertible notes offset by interest and other income earned on investments. This compares to $0.7 million of net interest and other expenses in the first quarter of 1999. The prior year included higher income earned on investments whereas the current year included higher interest expense as a result of utilization of revolving credit lines.

Net income for the three months ended January 30, 2000, increased to $3.0 million, or $0.13 per share on a basic and a diluted basis, compared with $0.6 million or $0.03 per basic and diluted share for the corresponding prior year period.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Photronics' cash and cash equivalents decreased $7.3 million during the three months ended January 30, 2000, largely as a result of capital expenditures for equipment of approximately $5 million and the timing of payments of amounts accrued at the end of fiscal 1999, including semi-annual interest on the Company's convertible notes.

Accounts receivable increased 2.9% from October 31, 1999 due to higher international sales, especially in Asia, and a stretch-out in days sales outstanding. Inventory increased by 3.7% during the quarter as a result of the Company's strategic decision to increase quantities of certain critical materials in anticipation of any potential Year 2000 issues.

Property, plant and equipment decreased to $276.2 million at January 30, 2000, from $282.2 million at October 31, 1999, primarily as a result of depreciation expense, offset by approximately $5 million of new capital additions.

Intangible and other non-current assets increased $6.7 million during the quarter ended January 30, 2000, principally due to an increase in the market value of investments available for sale.

Accounts payable and accruals decreased 24.9% or $14.1 million from October 31, 1999, due to the timing of payments principally for capital equipment, interest on the convertible notes and property taxes.

Photronics' commitments represent investments in additional manufacturing capability as well as advanced equipment for research and development of high-end, more complex photomasks. At January 30, 2000, Photronics had commitments outstanding for capital expenditures of approximately $30 million. Additional commitments for capital requirements are expected to be incurred during fiscal 2000. Photronics will continue to use its working capital and bank lines of credit to finance its capital expenditures. Photronics believes that its currently available resources, together with its capacity for substantial growth and its access to other debt and equity financing sources, are sufficient to satisfy its currently planned capital expenditures, as well as its anticipated working capital requirements for the foreseeable future.

YEAR 2000

As of the date of this filing, the Company has not experienced any Year 2000 problems that have affected its operations, the realization of financial assets, or the Company's results of operations. The Company will continue to monitor its operations for non-compliant components. The Company is also monitoring its open transactions with customers and vendors to ensure that there are no undetected problems that could have a future impact.

As of the date of this filing, the Company believes there are no remaining significant risks or exposure as a result of the Year 2000 issue.

"SAFE HARBOR" STATEMENT UNDER THE PRIVATE
SECURITIES LITIGATION REFORM ACT OF 1995:

Except for historical information, the matters discussed above may be considered forward-looking statements and may be subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause the actual results to differ materially from those projected, including uncertainties in the market, pricing, competition, procurement and manufacturing efficiencies, and other risks.
